VOL. XXV. NO. 9.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1906.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

BASE-BALL.

PROGRAMME OF GAMES THIS AFTERNOON AND THE FOURTH.

Bloomfield will play East Side Field Club this afternoon and the O. N. T. and the Carlestadt A. C. on the Fourth. Watessing will play the Ampere A. C. to day and the Montclair Athletic Club on the Fourth.

The Bloomfield Base-ball Club defeated the Paterson A. A. on the Williamson avenue grounds Saturday afternoon in one of the best games of the season. On account of the inclement weather but few saw the game, but those who braved the elements were certainly repayed for what little discomfort they endured. The playing of both teams was of the gilt edge variety, taking the condition of the grounds into consideration. O'Neill's fine catch of a hot liner and the timely hit of Hague were features of the game. The score:

This afternoon the locals will have as their opponents the strong East Side Field Club of Paterson, champions of the Paterson Base-ball League, and Bloomfield will have to put up their best article of ball to win.

On July 4 there will be a double header. In the morning the O. N. T. Base-ball Club, one of the strongest semi-professional teams in the State will appear, while in the afternoon the Carlestadt A. A. will endeavor to take the home team into camp. Games 10.30 A. M. and 4 P. M.

In the first game of a series of three to decide the championship of the Bloomfield Grammar School League the Bloomfield defeated the Carlestadt by the score of 5 to 1. The Bloomfield played an errorless game. The features of the game were the pitching of Walsh who gave Center but five hits, struck out nine and let two walk. Another feature was the batting of Delhagen of the Centre. The score:

It looks as if the Watessing Base-ball Club will have to seek new grounds again. The Watessing avenue part of the grounds now used by the club have been filled up and the fielding facilities interfered with in such a manner as to make the grounds almost useless for base-ball purposes.

A base-ball game between the Bloomfield and Watessing clubs was looked forward to as an interesting feature of the programme of sports for the Fourth of July celebration. These two clubs being both local in their membership, a contest between them would have occasioned considerable excitement in local base-ball circles. The management of the Watessing club alleges that it is due entirely to the Bloomfield club management that a Fourth of July game between the two clubs was not arranged. Manager Dalley of the Watessing club says he made overtures early in the season to the management of the Bloomfield club for a series of games, but his proposition was declined.

The Watessing Base-ball Club will play the strong Ampere A. C. at Watessing this afternoon and both teams expect to win. The Ampere A. C. made up of Forest Hill and East Orange High School graduates and have been playing great ball this season.

On July 4 Watessing will journey to Montclair and play the Athletic Club. The team has been practicing hard for these games.

Married a Year Ago.

The marriage has been announced of Miss Olive Edwards Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Smith of Thomas street, and Frederick Welker, the ceremony having been performed in New York on June 19, 1905. The only wedding secret was that they wanted to give their friends a surprise.

Burglary in Glen Ridge.

The home of Robert E. Moss, 56 Benson street, Glen Ridge, was entered by a Newark thief on Sunday evening. The thief secured about $17 in cash belonging to Miss Mabel Freeman, a sister of Mrs. Moss, who was visiting there, and various articles of silverware valued at about $200. It was evident that the fellow was frightened off before he could complete his work. He left behind a large quantity of jewelry and other valuables.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss and their little daughter were dining at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howell Johnson of 288 Broad street, this town, only a short distance away, at the time, Mrs. Johnson being a sister of Mrs. Moss. The thief, before beginning operations, cut the telephone wire, so in case of surprise the police and neighbors could not be notified of his presence in the vicinity. He forced his way into the house through a kitchen window with the aid of a jimmy. The thief is believed to be the same fellow who has been operating extensively in this vicinity, East Orange and other places for some time past. He attempted to enter the house of John C. Dale, on the corner of Benson street and Essex avenue, a few days ago, almost across the street from Mr. Moss's house. It is believed Mr. Dale had just returned from a few days' business trip at Cape May.

Burglary on Franklin Hill.

The residence of Mr. A. P. Heyer of 155 Franklin street was entered by thieves last week. Entrance was made through a parlor window which had accidentally been left unlatched. The thieves ransacked the drawers of two sideboards, but not finding money left the silver untouched. They ascended to the second story, one bedroom door being unlocked they entered and ransacked the bureau drawers, only finding empty pocketbooks. These they threw in the hall together with a suit of clothes which also had no money in. Not a thing was taken, as money was evidently their only object. Mr. Heyer will now have electric alarms attached to his house, wires already having been run for that purpose.

Burglary in Marden Place.

The residence of Frank Goodwin in Marden place was entered by burglars Tuesday night by cutting a piece out of the panel of the back door, and Chief Gallagher of Montclair says it was certainly a visit from "Jack the Boy". who has not been around here for about two years. He got his name from the fact that all his entrances are effected by boring a number of holes in a panel, forming a circle, and then inserting his hand to unlock the door. A true statement of the things taken by the burglar are: Five silver dishes, six soup spoons, six teaspoons, six tablespoons, six bread and butter knives, six coffee spoons, one silver strainer and one out glass silver tin vase. The articles were all solid silver.

Death of Eliza B. Whipple.

Miss Eliza B. Whipple, aged 69 years, died Monday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Francis Pease, after a lingering illness. Miss Whipple was the daughter of the late Lyman Whipple, a one-time editor of the New York Evangelist. She was born in New York city, and was graduated from Mount Holyoke Seminary, South Hadley, Mass., and previous to coming to Bloomfield she was a teacher in the Paterson public schools.

Miss Whipple was well known in this town, owing to her long service as a teacher in the public schools. She began teaching under Principal MacPhail and retired during Mr. Dunbar's term. After leaving the schools she devoted her time to religious and philanthropic work. She was a solicitor for the Mountaintop Hospital Association. She was for many years secretary of the First Presbyterian Church schools. The funeral service was held Thursday afternoon, and Rev. George L. Curtis officiated.

An Announcement.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN: SIR—I desire to announce my candidacy through the columns of your paper, and I trust you will allow me the space for the same. Respectfully,

FRED K. GABE.

TO THE VOTERS AND PEOPLE OF BLOOMFIELD:

I desire to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Town Clerk, and I shall contest for the nomination of the above office in the Republican primaries, which will be held in September next. I shall make my canvass on the platform adopted by the Republican League for Limited Franchise and Equal Taxation, and all other issues which will be a benefit to the people at large. I appeal for support in the coming primaries to all who are in favor of the town government being conducted for the best interests of the taxpayers and the people at large. Respectfully,

FRED K. GABE.

Construction Work Going On.

The Erie Railroad Company has a siding extending across the Sawyer-Mann Company property at Clearfield avenue and many car-loads of material to be used in the construction of the new factory for the Sawyer-Mann Company are arriving daily.

Cogan-Delaney.

Miss Ida Delaney, daughter of the late Andrew Delaney, and John Cogan were married in the Church of the Sacred Heart Wednesday morning by Rev. Joseph M. Nardella, pastor of the church. Palms and cut flowers composed the decorations. The bride was gown in white net over white silk, and carried roses. James Carpell was best man. Miss Lillian M. Meeker, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid. She was attired in pink silk, and carried pink carnations. A reception and wedding breakfast followed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Albert Meeker, in Berkeley place. The couple received many beautiful gifts. They are spending their honeymoon in Atlantic City.

Constable Smith Promoted. Constable John Vincent Smith, for nearly a score of years connected with the county courts, has been appointed sergeant-at-arms of the Circuit Court by Judges Adams and Halsey. He will begin his new duties, which only slightly increase his salary, on July 1. The appointment was made under an act of the Legislature of last winter.

MAX KURNICK'S LICENSE.

Strong Opposition Likely to Develop Monday Night Against Granting the Application—Charges Made that the Place Is Not Conducted as the Ordinance Requires—Petition in Circulation in Opposition to the Granting of the License.

The application of Max Kurnick for license to conduct an inn and tavern at No. 364 Broad street, which, at the request of Mayor Fisher was laid over for investigation at the Council meeting at which license were granted, is likely to be more strongly opposed if it comes up for consideration Monday night.

At a conference of citizens held recently the Kurnick license was the subject of discussion and the general opinion was that the granting of the application ought to be vigorously opposed, not alone on the grounds of the specific case of disorder named by Mayor Fisher, but on the broader ground that no apparent attempt is made to conform with the ordinance requirements in the conducting of the place.

It is alleged that fights and brawls are of frequent occurrence in the place and that the conduct of its patrons is of such a character as to make the place a nuisance to the community. A petition setting forth the grounds of opposition to the granting of the license is in circulation in the Second ward and is said to be extensively signed.

The house, No. 364 Broad street, has long been a licensed place. The present proprietor, Max Kurnick, recently purchased the property and paid a high price for it and has a large financial interest involved in it. The fact that the house was an established stand as a saloon gave it value.

Ever since Kurnick took possession the place has deteriorated in reputation. The police department has from time to time remonstrated with the proprietor and admonished him that he must keep better order in his place and see to it that his patrons refrain from giving public offences in their conduct about the premises. One fact is apparent, either Kurnick can not or he will not observe the provisions of the license ordinance. He lays the blame on some of those who frequent his place and make "rough house" of it. Several times they have restrained him from calling in the police to arrest turbulent patrons, and his customers threatened to "break" him if he did so.

Kurnick, it appears, has been too anxious to please trade and too lenient with drunkards. He has permitted the disorderly element to get the upper hand of him and as a consequence has aroused a strong sentiment amongst law and order people against his place.

Trolley Car Collision.

A serious collision occurred on the Bloomfield avenue trolley line about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, nearly opposite Metz's Hotel, between Orange and Race streets, and in which five persons were injured. Both cars were bound for Newark. The first car, a closed one, stopped in front of Metz's Hotel to allow a passenger to get off. Before it could start up again the rear car, an open one, crashed into the front car.

Peter Tenney, a new motorman, had charge of the rear car. He leaped when he saw a collision was inevitable and escaped injury. The cars came together with a crash that could be heard for a block. There were but a few passengers on the open car, and some of them were thrown over the seats and bruised. Their names could not be learned.

Nearly every pane of glass in the closed car was broken and its rear vestibule was smashed. The conductor was unharmed. Superintendent Sparrow of the Public Service, who was on the car following, assisted in taking care of those injured and getting things to rights. Traffic was interrupted for a time and the rest of the passengers were transferred to other cars. The damaged cars were taken to the repair shop.

The injured are Mrs. Mary Griffin of No. 280 Lafayette street, Newark; her daughter, Mrs. Mary Lloyd, same address; Mrs. Jacobus, Broad street, Newark. Mrs. Edward Wadsworth of No. 474 Third street, Brooklyn, and her daughter, Miss Mary Wadsworth, also of that city.

As soon as order was restored willing hands set to work to relieve the injured. Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Lloyd were carried into Metz's Hotel, where their hurts were attended to by Dr. Wolfe. Upon examination it was found that Mrs. Griffin's face was injured, while Mrs. Lloyd sustained a fractured rib and numerous contusions. Mrs. Edward Wadsworth received a sprained wrist and a number of bruises. Her daughter was only slightly bruised, while Mrs. Jacobus had several contusions on the forehead and back. The three latter were removed to Lauffer's drug store and treated by Dr. Shelton of Montclair. Later all the injured were sent home.

Engagement and Reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Moses of 5 Broad street gave a reception from 2 to 10 P. M. Sunday in honor of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Moses, to Henry Gottlieb of New York. The affair took place at Central Hall, and was attended by about 125 guests from New York, Newark, Montclair, the Oranges and other places. Mr. and Mrs. Moses were assisted in receiving the guests by Mr. and Mrs. Wise of Montclair. The decorations were posted plants and palms, and a string orchestra furnished music. Refreshments were served and dancing followed. The couple will be married in the spring.

Vice-Chancellor Pitney and Mr. Bruett.

Vice-Chancellor Pitney on Tuesday afternoon signed an order enjoining Gustav Bruett from further cultivating a leased farm lying partly in this town and partly in Belleville, owned by the Sobo Park and Land Company. The order permits Mr. Bruett to take off about twenty acres of rye. Mr. Bruett has been in possession of this farm, which comprises about 235 acres, for the past seven years, under a verbal agreement with the late Abraham S. Hewitt, who was president of the Sobo Company, to continue in possession until it should be sold. He declared that he had spent about $4,000 in improvements, and that if obliged to quit he would be a loser. This did not seem to appeal to the vice-chancellor, who said: "I am a farmer myself and I have a tenant. I have been trying for thirty years to get my tenant's share, but I have never been able to do it. I would like to have his share and let him take mine."

Mr. Bruett was not convinced, however, that the tenant got the best end of it, and when he filed complaint of the hardship being brought upon him, the vice-chancellor told another story about a boy who had been sent to the cellar to fetch a pitcher of whiskey, which was duly passed around. The pitcher was not passed to this boy, and when he asked, "Where do I come in?" he was asked: "Didn't you drink at the tip?" "If Mr. Bruett did not drink at the tip, I can't help him," the vice-chancellor declared.

After brooding over matters awhile, Mr. Bruett, addressing the vice-chancellor, remarked with a sigh: "There's no mercy in this court."

A Social Feature of School Life.

The High School graduating class of 1906 represented fifteen per cent. of the pupils who graduated from the grammar schools into the High School department in 1906. The class of 1906 was the largest that has ever been graduated from the High School, and the percentage was a high one. The indications point to a steady gain in High School graduations. There is a general tendency toward higher education among all classes and conditions of life.

The attendance at the schools is commensurate in its composition, and the High School class is a representative of an intellectual democracy that is going to prove an important factor in the future. There is an attractiveness and allurements about the social phase of high school life that stimulates an aspiration in the hearts of many parents to have their children enjoy the benefits of that superior social distinction, and while a few people decry the conventionalities of a high school, graduating season, yet when the proper time and opportunity arrive the desire is there if it can be gratified, to have the boy or girl of the family get in the line light of public admiration that annually comes so graciously on the group of high school graduates.

Alarm of Fire at Sprague Works.

A fire broke out in the shipping department of the Sprague Electric Works Tuesday afternoon. There is much excelsior and other inflammable material used in that department and the smoke was issuing from the building in great volumes. The company's own fire department got speedily to work and as an extra precaution an alarm was sounded from the company's special box, No. 14. Before the town department reached the factory the company's firemen had extinguished the fire. The alarm of fire caused much excitement in Watessing for a time.

At Jamestown.

The first buildings to be completed at the Jamestown Exposition present a unique group, called the Arts and Crafts Village. In the early colonial days men and women made by hand almost every article which entered into the furnishing of their houses and the providing of their wearing apparel and even for their ornaments. And before the landing of the whites in America the Indians made with their own hands their clothing, cooking utensils, baskets, pottery and objects of ornament for their persons and for their totems. Some of these things are now worth their weight in gold and are in great demand by those who appreciate art and things artistic.

Lockwood Family Reunion.

The fourth annual reunion of the Lockwood family took place Saturday at the home of Mrs. Catherine Lockwood, who is 80 years old, in Brookdale. Dinner was served under the trees on the lawn. Thirty-two persons were present, including four children, ten grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Mrs. Lockwood, who is one of the oldest residents of this town, and widow of John Lockwood, is enjoying excellent health. Her sons are Charles M., John H. and Wesley S. Lockwood.

Firemen's Outing.

The members of Active Hose Company, No. 2, had a pleasant outing Wednesday night when they went on a trolley ride and enjoyed a home dinner at Bayonne. Comedian Chas. and Green of the fire committee, Chief Engineer James Y. Nicol, J. J. Collect, Frank Foster and Town Clerk Wm. L. Johnson went with the excursion party.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE BOARD OF TRADE CELEBRATION.

Indications Point to a Big Time on Wednesday—List of March for this Parade—Programme of Events of the Day.

Arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration under the auspices of the Board of Trade have been completed. The events of the day's programme are as follows: Sunrise salute, Bloomfield battery; street procession, 9 o'clock in the morning; patriotic service in First Presbyterian Church, 11 o'clock in the morning; athletic sports, Williamson field, 2 o'clock in the afternoon; fireworks in the evening, Williamson field.

Two base-ball games are a part of the programme of sports. In the morning at 10.30 o'clock the Bloomfield club will play the O. N. T. club of Newark and in the afternoon at 4 o'clock the Bloomfield club will play the Carlestadt Athletic club.

The street parade will start at 9 o'clock. The line will form at Broad street and Park avenue, right reading on Broad street. The line of march will be as follows: South along Broad street to the Centre, Bloomfield avenue to Orange street, to Franklin street, to Montgomery street, to Orchard street, to Belleville avenue, to Spruce street, to Maple street, to Broad street, to Belleville avenue, and disband.

A special committee was appointed from the membership of the general committee to arrange for decoration along the line of march. The committee requests that residents along the line of march decorate their houses in a patriotic and suitable manner. The committee will be unable to personally interview every one and takes this opportunity to urge upon "patriotic citizens" to make this feature of the day's celebration a grand success.

If all promises made to the parade committee are fulfilled the street procession will be most imposing one, and will be made up as follows:

Squadron of police, Chief Collins in command; Grand Marshal, George W. Odemus and his aides; Markwith's Band; battalion of National Guard, Major Isaac Shegall in command; William S. Plesner, Fort, G. A. R., and visiting veterans; Lieutenant Danaher in command; drum corps; contingents of Sons of Veterans; Captain Thomas E. Jones, Jr., in command.

A float arranged by the "Novem Viribus" club will follow the Grand Army. This club is a singing society composed of nine young ladies, who will occupy the float and will be attired in Colonial costume and will sing at intervals along the line of march. The members of the club are: Lila G. Baldwin, president; Ada Eichorn, secretary; Emily Batzle, treasurer; Grace Plesner, Rosetta C. Johnson, Carrie Maxwell, Luella Cook, Hazel Hogan and Mildred R. Cokerfair. "Spirit of '76" veterans of Colonial days, Harry White in command.

James T. Boyd Council Jr. O. U. A. M., and visiting councils, including uniformed rank, Edwin Elliot in command, Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias, Montgomery Cadets, gun batteries.

Representation of citizens, open to all civic and fraternal societies not otherwise placed in the parade will be welcome to this division.

The Bloomfield volunteer fire department, five companies, Chief Engineer James Y. Nicol in command.

Dark Town Fire Brigade, Grand Chief Dark Richard J. Maxwell in command.

The patriotic service in the First Presbyterian Church will be held at 11 o'clock. Wm. Biggart, President of the Board of Trade, will preside. The Rev. Jesse L. Hurburt of the Park M. E. Church will offer the invocation. Miss Ina Wright will read the Declaration of Independence. Judge Wm. A. Francis of Newark will deliver the oration. There will be music by the band and patriotic songs will be sung.

At 2 o'clock sharp on Williamson field the carnival of athletic sports will begin and in the evening the day's celebration will conclude with a display of fireworks on Williamson's field.

A limited number of tickets for the grand stand to see the fine display of fireworks are on sale at Woods' and Keyler's drug stores.

The general committee will hold its final meeting to-night in the Town Council room and every member of the committee is requested to be present. The secretary of the committee desires that the following announcement be published:

All persons who have not paid their subscription to the Fourth of July fund are requested to hand same to the various collectors or the treasurer, H. L. Osborne, by Saturday evening, in order to be reported to the general committee meeting to be held in the Council room at 8 P. M.

Musical Instructions.

Miss Grace Willocks will resume instructions on the piano September 11th. Residence and studio, 87 Orchard street. Arrangements can be made now.—Advt.
